

This penguin for the first time is starting down a slope that leads inexorably to the sea. It metaphorically represents that ambivalent moment experienced by each of us when we put aside the familiar and enter upon some new and unknown activity.

CHARLES ALLMOND

Resides: Wilmington, Delaware
b. 1931, Delaware, USA

Slippery Slope

Penguin

Bronze, 17.5 x 11.5 x 7