Parade Stars
Clydesdale horses
Acrylic, 21 x 26

A symbol of beauty and grace, and always a crowd pleaser, the Budweiser Clydesdales appear annually at the Cheyenne Frontier Days Parade. I painted them turning up a downtown street with the Cheyenne capitol building in the background. After the parade, I was privileged to view them up close at their portable stables. This is one in a series of Clydesdale paintings I'm currently working on.
